PHONE CO., UNION REACH AGREEMENT

Federation, Company Complete Contract Negotiations.

Officials of the Ohio Federation of Telephone Workers Inc., a statewide independent union, today announced negotiations completed and a contract pending with the Ohio Associated Telephone company.

The contract is the first to be negotiated by the union with the Associated company and affects approximately 90 company employes in the Marion area. The federation represents approximately 15,000 phone workers affiliated with the various companies operating in the state.

Negotiations concluded Saturday on a one-year contract retroactive to Jan. 3, 1948. The contract is expected to be signed this week, according to Lester Pickett of Waldo, chairman of the local union bargaining committee. Other officers representing the Marion area workers include Robert Noggle of Caledonia and Wanda Mossbarger of Marion.

The pending contract provides for wage increases from five cents per hour at the starting rate, to 15 cents per hour at the top rate. Other provisions include reduction of the progression schedule, vacations up to three weeks based on length of service with the company; six paid holidays, seniority provisions for promotion, transfer and lay-off, dues check-off, union security and arbitration of disputes.

The union agreed under a no-strike clause, that there will be no strikes, work stoppages or slowdowns for the duration of the contract. The union went on record to use its influence to improve service to Marion, Federation officials said.

Edward A. Tennant, company superintendent of the Marion division, said the agreement covers employes in the three local operating departments, traffic, commercial and plant.

GREEK TROOPS SEEK TO ROUT GUERRILLAS

By The Associated Press

ATHENS, Jan. 5—National forces launched drives today to expand the Konitsa perimeter and clear guerrilla units from the area west of the town, press dispatches said.

The area which government troops are attempting to clear lies between the Sarandoporos and Aoos rivers. Lykomoro Height, key rebel position only a mile from the Albanian border and north of the Sarandoporos, was captured by a commando unit after savage hand-to-hand fighting. Thirty guerrillas were killed in the passes leading to the height and another 15 on the slopes during night fighting.

Koutsouphliani, another height only three and a half miles west of Konitsa, was wrested from the guerrillas. The rebels are continuing harassment of engineers trying to restore the wrecked Bouronari bridge 11 miles west of Konitsa on the main road into the town.

Farther westward in the Delvinaki region, a guerrilla force of 1,500 to 2,000 men was reported withdrawing northward toward Pogiani, less than a mile from the Albanian frontier. A report said 15 girls had been abducted by the men at Visiani.

There was speculation today that the guerrillas may attempt a new offensive, with press reports of fresh movements across the Albanian border near Philiates, 29 miles southwest of Konitsa.

ASKS OIL PRICE CUT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5—An appeal for an "appreciable" cut in the price of fuel oil was made to the petroleum industry today by Senator Flanders (R-Vt). Flanders took this action as a senate small business subcommittee assembled to open two-fold inquiry into American oil exports of Canada in the face of a shortage in this country, and into the oil requirements of foreign aid programs.

Investigate TNT Palestine Crates

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 5—An explanation why crates labeled "used industrial machinery," which were being loaded for shipment to Palestine, contained explosive TNT was sought today by federal and local authorities.

The TNT, or tri-nitro-toluene, was discovered Saturday when a crate burst open during the loading of the American export lines freighter Executor at a Jersey City pier.

When a second crate also proved to contain TNT, police and customs officials ordered 77 Palestine-bound crates impounded and removed by barge to a safe anchorage.

Police said 26 crates were believed to contain 65,000 pounds of TNT—enough to devastate a 100-square-mile area.

No charges or arrests have been announced during the ensuing investigation.

HUNT 16 MISSING IN BOMBED HOTEL

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, Jan. 5—Rescuers dug today into the debris of the Semiramis hotel for 16 persons missing after the three-story stone structure was leveled by a bomb which police said the Jewish underground had planted. Three persons were known dead.

One informant said the hotel was one of five district headquarters for an Arab military group. The known dead included Manuel Salazar Travesedo, acting Spanish consul. Some 17 were injured.

A similar act of violence occurred Sunday in Jaffa, where Arab headquarters was bombed and 15 persons were killed and about 100 injured. Police blamed the Stern gang, the most extreme element of the Jewish underground.

Arab sources said the hotel was owned by a Greek woman. They described the attack there and at Jaffa as "reprisals" for the rioting last week in a Haifa refinery in which 47 Jews were killed, after Jews had bombed a line of Arabs before the employment office.

At least four persons were brought out alive from the hotel wreckage, one a woman who had screamed in pain for four hours before she was saved.

The Jerusalem and Jaffa bombings increased to 558 the number of persons killed in Palestine since the United Nations voted partition on Nov. 29.

FUNERAL OF SLAIN CHILD HELD TODAY

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Jan. 5—Funeral services were held today for 8-year-old Sheila Ann Tuley as authorities continued their investigation of the probability the girl was murdered, possibly by a maniac or a juvenile delinquent.

Coroner S. R. Gerber announced after a conference with Detective Lt. David E. Kerr, chief of the homicide squad, that "everybody is agreed now" the child's death New Year's night was murder.

Kerr later said he would keep an open mind and not rule out the possibilty of a traffic accident. He reported his men had no promising leads after 72 hours of continuous detective work.

Sheila's bloody body was found on a neighbor's porch several hours after her father, Edward J. Tuley, a machinist, had sent her on an errand to a neighborhood drug store.

Inspector Michael J. Blackwell said that in his years on the police force he had never seen a case as baffling. Convinced from the start the girl had been murdered, Blackwell said he would call a halt to all murder hunting within the last 48 hours.

REWARD FOR SLAYER NOW REACHES $1,000

More "Flyers" Sent Out by Sheriff in Search.

Through public subscription the reward for the arrest and conviction of the slayer of Mrs. Zora Gerbes, Marion mother of three, has been boosted to $1,000. Edwin Demoine Young, 39, is sought on a first degree murder indictment charging him with the slaying.

Sheriff LeRoy Retterer said 3,000 "flyers" have been printed carrying the new reward total and the first of these were to be placed in the mail today.

Original reward money offered for the arrest of the fugitive was $200, with the sheriff and County Prosecutor James E. Reed each posting $100.

Lee Kellis, stepfather of the slain woman made an appeal to the public for funds when the Marion county commissioners failed to authorize posting of a reward for the murder.

Petitions were placed in circulation by Kellis and friends of the family. More than $700 was subscribed. Aiding with the petitions were Rev. Melvin Truex, pastor of the First Church of Christ in Christian Union and neighbors of the Kellis'.

Young has been traced to Colorado through use of a gasoline credit card which enabled officials to chart his trail. The local sheriff's office obtained aid from the FBI when it became apparent Young had fled the state. No report has yet been made by the federal men although the search is being pressed by both agencies, Sheriff Retterer said.

Colorado Physician Named "Family Doctor of the Year"

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

CLEVELAND, Jan. 5—Dr. Archer Chester Sudan of Kremmling, Colo. today was awarded the general practitioner gold medal and certificate by the house of delegates at the American Medical association midwinter meeting here.

He has been practicing as a family physician in Kremmling for 21 years. This town had only 500 inhabitants when he started. He took care of people for 80 miles around. He is a 200-pounder and a noted teller of fish stories.

Dr. Sudan received 83 votes from the house. Second with 43 votes was Dr. W. L. Pressly of Due West, S. C. Third with 18 votes was Dr. Jacob T. Oliphant of Farmersburg, (Sullivan county) Indiana.

The Colorado physician was selected for the "family doctor of the year" award for exceptional service after consideration by the AMA of the work of an estimated 100,000 physicians in the field.

This is the first time an official medal of honor has been given to an American family doctor just for being a family doctor.

The award is the first step in a move by the American Medical association to restore the family doctor to the position he once occupied in protecting the health of the public.

The American Medical association is mainly a family doctor organization. About 100,000 of its 135,000 member physicians are general practitioners, as contrasted to specialists.

The family doctor was described today as the man who delivers a thousand babies, who took care of grandpa, and now the third generation.

On the average this American family doctor fails to collect 25 per cent of the fees owed him.

The candidates today were selected by states. They were voted for by State Medical association, Rotary, Kiwanis, and Lions clubs, by Chambers of Commerce, Women's clubs and community organizations. The votes were on outstanding contributions to the community.

Marines Sail Today For Service in Greece

By The Associated Press

MOREHEAD CITY, N. C., Jan. 5—An undisclosed number of U. S. Marines will shove off from this port tomorrow for service in the Mediterranean area.

The Leatherneck, according to a terse Navy announcement, will be stationed on ships operating in Italian and Greek waters. The United States is pledged to resist Communism in both these countries.

The Navy didn't say how many marines would sail, but the transport has a capacity of 1,600 officers and men.

The ship will be docked at Morehead City today.

The men of the second Marine Division at Camp Lejeune, N. C., are World War II veterans in Greenville, Tennessee and the Carolinas.

DOCTORS GIVEN ATOMIC PLAN

Protection Against Radioactive Diseases Put Up to Physicians.

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

CLEVELAND, Jan. 5—The U. S. atomic energy commission today asked the American Medical association to undertake protection of the public from atomic bombs, atomic explosions and atomic radioactivity.

The request said that in war or in peace new medical problems are faced because of atomic energy.

Although the radioactive diseases are known, the scale on which they must be fought, said the request, is unprecedented. The medical profession was asked to take the responsibility for recognition of these diseases and particularly their provention.

The message also asked the doctors to explore all possible health benefits to mankind that may come from atomic energy.

The request was sent by Dr. Shields Warren of Boston, interim director of the division of biology and medicine of the atomic energy commission. It was read to the house of delegates, governing body of the American Medical association, holding a four-day session, the first midwinter meeting of the AMA.

Dr. Edward L. Bortz of Philadelphia, president of the American Medical association, read the message.

Thousands of Japanese lost their lives because of a single instant's exposure to a flash of X-rays from the bombs. Their ability to form new blood was impaired.

Many died because of bleeding in small trickles throughout their bodies. At the time, it was announced that there were no known medical remedies.

Now a start has been made. Only last week it was announced in the journal, Science, that a new drug, rutin, largely reduces this atomic bleeding in dogs. The belief is that rutin will protect humans. Bikini animal experiments showed that merely good nursing care would have saved the lives of many Japanese, who died without benefit of doctors because so many physicians were killed or wounded.

TO EXHUME BODY OF MURDER VICTIM

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 5.—Dr. Mitchell A. Spyker, Franklin county coroner, today was scheduled to go to Paintsville, Ky., to exhume the body of a young Columbus real estate dealer in an effort to uncover new clues to the man's murder last Dec. 16.

Dr. Spyker, who ended his feud with Columbus police and the sheriff's office Saturday by apologizing for his criticism of their work in the slaying, said the body of Elmo C. Rice, 28, would be examined somewhere in Kentucky. He said he hoped the examination would lead to discovery of a bullet fragment believed lodged in the murder victim's body.

Rice's body was found on a bridge several miles north of here the night of Dec. 16, less than two hours after he had left his home to demonstrate his 1947 automobile to a prospective buyer. He had been shot twice through the head. The car was found abandoned in downtown Columbus several hours later.

Dr. Spyker, who two weeks ago charged that the city police and sheriff's office had "bungled" the case, Saturday apologized and said his statements were "hasty" and "ill advised."

Vital Issues Before Congress Session Opening Tomorrow

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5—Questions bearing vitally on the future of the United States and most of the world confront the 80th congress meeting tomorrow for its final session.

Help for Europe and Asia, tax cutting, the high cost of living, rent control and the housing shortage, military preparedness and health insurance are a few of the top issues. And the list probably will grow.

A complicating factor is that this is a general election year. Democrats want to regain control of congress they lost to the G.O.P. in 1946. The Republicans hope to put their presidential nominee in the White House for the first time since Franklin D. Roosevelt started his first term in 1933.

So an undertone of practical politics is almost certain as each party bids for the favor of the voters who will decide the political fortunes next November.

The first week of the new session will be devoted primarily to speechmaking and strategy huddles by congressional leaders, with a few committees starting to lay the groundwork for future legislative actions.

Truman Message Wednesday

The senate Republican policy committee and the house Republican steering committee will meet during the week for decisions which will go far toward shaping the majority party's legislative program to counter the proposals President Truman will outline Wednesday in his annual state-of-the-union message.

The Chief Executive will go to the Capitol in person to deliver that message to a joint session of the senate and house. His economic report on Friday and his budget message next Monday will be delivered by messenger.

The first actual battle of the session probably will take place in the house, over the G.O.P.-backed tax reduction bill. House leaders want to pass the measure this month so, as Speaker Martin put it, the President will know what to expect.

The tax bill under consideration would cut $5,600,000,000 and about 7,400,000 low income and elderly persons from the tax rolls. It goes further than the two bills Mr. Truman vetoed last year.

In addition to the Marshall plan for European recovery, congress also is due to get a separate state department program for helping China.

Mr. Truman is expected to submit a record peacetime budget of about $40,000,000 in his message next Monday. Shortly thereafter, joint committees under G.O.P control will meet to work out a legislative budget as a pattern for future appropriations.

How Mr. Truman will lay down his program—whether in general terms in the state of the union message with supporting details in the economic and budget messages, or spread out over the three documents—remains to be seen.

Possible Truman Requests

But in advance of actual knowledge, congressional leaders are speculating that the President will ask the lawmakers to:

Approve the Marshall plan quickly.

Extend rent control beyond its Feb. 29 expiration date.

Pass a universal military training bill.

Approve a national health insurance program.

Broaden social security coverage.

Extend the reciprocal trade agreements act expiring in June.

Give legal status to and expand the state department's foreign information program.

Do something about the housing situation, and:

Give him standby price-wage control and rationing powers.

The special session last month responded with a sharp "no" to that last request, approving instead a program of voluntary action to combat inflation.

10 CHILDREN KILLED ON SLED

Speeding Train Hits Tractor-Drawn Bobsled at Crossing in Archbold.

By The Associated Press

ARCHBOLD, O., Jan. 5 — "I thought the track was clear," Jesse Wyse said today in explaining how the New York Central's "Chicagoan" passenger train smashed his farm bobsled, killing 10 children of three neighbors and seriously injuring two others, one of them his daughter.

Wyse and his 13-year-old son, John, whom the father believed "too young and inexperienced" to take the tractor-drawn sled out himself, were not hurt. The boy leaped to safety from the rear of the sled.

"I just stiffened in my seat on the tractor," the father said. "The train hit the sled, tore it loose from the tractor and hurled it down the tracks."

The bobsled was scattered for a mile along the right-of-way east of this northwestern Ohio town. Two of the victims were ground beneath wheels of the train. No train passengers were injured and it continued to Chicago after a 57 minute delay.

Snow Covers Tragedy

By that time, witnesses said, snow nearly had blotted out all evidence of the tragedy which occurred at 1:30 p. m. yesterday.

Wyse planned to take the youngsters out Saturday, but was unable to do so until yesterday. His son, John, told state highway patrolmen he begged to take the sled out himself "but dad said I was too young and inexperienced."

Wyse said he stopped at the crossing and thought the tracks were clear.

"I started up the tractor again and just as it was clearing the tracks, I saw the train bearing down on the sled," he continued. "It was horrible."

The dead were identified by Coroner H. M. Warner of Fulton county as four children of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Grieser—Gayle, 13; her twin, Charlene; Patricia, 8, and Sharon, 6—four children of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Grieser—Donald, 13; Marlin, 11; Arlene, 10, and Janet, 4— and two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Osborne—Jean 12, and Marjorie, 16.

Wyse's daughter, Janice, 7, and another daughter of the Lawrence Grieser's, Shirley, 9, were hospitalized at nearby Wauseon.

D. O. Scherer, of Toledo, engineer of the train, said he saw the sleigh-ride party, whistled frantically but was unable to stop in time. He estimated his speed at 80 miles an hour. Conductor R. L. Snook of Elkhart, Ind., said two of the children leaped before the train struck.

Survivor Describes Scene

Shirley, taken to a Wauseon hospital with a broken leg, described the "terrible moment" of the tragedy.

"We didn't see the train because we were having so much fun," she related. "All of a sudden we looked up—and there the train was, big as everything and whistling like mad."

"I was so scared I didn't know what to do, so I just sat there."

"Janice Wyse and I were sitting up front in the bobsled. The next thing we both knew we were flying right through the air."

Jackson also was hospitalized here. Both her legs were broken.

VOTE VICTORY SCORED BY FRENCH PREMIER

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Jan. 5—The French national assembly gave Premier Robert Schuman votes of confidence today by defeating two Communist - Peasant-De Gaullist amendments to the government's anti-inflation bill.

The assembly voted down efforts to exclude 1,100,000 farmers from the tax bill and to exempt small artisans from the choice of paying a special income tax or investing the same amount in government bonds. The votes were 306-273 and 308-272, respectively.

Other amendments still to be voted on would reduce tax levies on war, drouth and flood victims and on small family-operated businesses.

Assembly circles predicted that the government's margin might be close in the voting on tax relief for war victims, but it was generally believed that it would win out.

CASTAWAYS ON ICE AWAIT RESCUERS

By The Associated Press

KODIAK, ALASKA, Jan. 5—Cut off both by land and sea, nine—and possibly 10—shivering castaways huddled on a rocky ice-coated point of the Alaska peninsula, opposite Kodiak island, today as a Navy tug and a Coast Guard cutter waited out a 60-mile an hour storm before attempting a rescue.

For all but three of the men it was their fifth night of exposure to the freezing cold.

Three of the men are crewmen from the Navy tug Mataco. They struggled to shore Saturday night after their surf boat capsized in a daring rescue attempt.

The others have been stranded since their 65-foot cannery tender, the motorship Spencer, struck a reef Dec. 31 and broke up in the pounding surf. Aerial photographs taken by a search plane showed a group of either six or seven men huddled on the point. Previous reports said six had been seen.

GENERAL STRIKE SPREADS IN ITALY

By The Associated Press

ROME, Jan. 5 — Messina, a Sicilian city of 200,000, was caught today in a general strike called in sympathy with strikers in nearby Barcellona.

The new labor unrest came as the Communist national congress in Milan mapped a poogram aimed at overthrowing the government of Premier Alcide de Gasperi.

Millions went without pay Saturday because of a continuing strike of 60,000 bank employes, demanding more money and other benefits.

Street cars in Messina were not operating but the Italian news agency said many workers reached the places of employment, regardless. Food stores and public buildings remained open. Police forces were strengthened.

Another general strike was called in Barcellona in protest to the arrest Saturday of a score of demonstrators, including local labor leader.

A general strike was threatened in Padua. Seven cities had unemployment demonstrations Sunday.

'LITTLE ASSEMBLY' MEETS WITH SOVIET BLOC ABSENT

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 5—The United Nations "Little Assembly" began its year-round sittings today with Russia and the five other Soviet bloc nations boycotting its opening session.

Secretary-General Trygve Lie, in opening the meeting at 11:25 a. m., took no official notice of the boycott but he gave his full approval to the new experimental body, originally proposed by Secretary of State Marshall.

Although, ignoring the vacant seats at the huge committee table, Lie took issue with the contention expressed previously by Russia that the "little assembly" would undermine the security council and threaten the entire UN structure.

"I am convinced," Lie declared, "that the interim committee (little assembly) can make a very constructive contribution to the effectiveness of the general assembly and thereby strenthen the United Nations as a whole."

TELLS OF HUGE RUSS OPERATION IN URALS

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 5—Rep. Franklin J. Maloney (R-Pa) asserted today that the Russians are using German and Austrian forced labor "in the thousands" in a massive war production undertaking behind the Ural mountains.

The legislator, who returned recently from a seven-week tour of Europe, said he received his information from a high German churchman.

"The Soviets," Maloney said in an interview, "are calling in men—and some women too—from the Russian-occupied zones of Germany and Russia. Their families never hear from them again."

Maloney said the Soviet war production campaign is "a tremendous undertaking" and that reliable informants told him the Soviets are making projectiles and tanks—"although I don't know why"—in their Ural factories.

Since the end of the war, Maloney added, the Russians have removed a great number of their major factories in the seclusion of the area behind the Urals. "And they've built a lot more since then," he declared.

"That's something the American people ought to know," he added.

The Russians, he said, are permitted to enter the American zones of Germany and Austria to inspect our equipment such as surplus American engines. "On the other hand," said Maloney "the Russians don't even let us in their zone, except their area in Berlin."

UBLIC WORKS AGGING IN OHIO

deral Agency Calls for Advance Planning; Cites Huge Backlog.

By The Associated Press

ASHINGTON, Jan. 5—Ohio a backlog of $1,174,000,000 in ssed state and local public ks projects six months ago, the eral works agency said today, plans have been completed for than 10 per cent of that total. he agency, in its latest quarry report, said that state and public works "have been erbuilt" for the last 15 years asserted the national volume plans completed is "small and dequate."

he report listed a $19,943,000,- backlog for such projects ughout the nation on last June Of this amount, plans were pleted for $2,418,000,000 or ntly more than 12 per cent.

Only 9 Per Cent Planned

n Ohio, the agency said, plans e completed six months ago $101,000,000 or less than nine cent. June 30 was the expira- date for a law providing fed- funds for advance planning state and local projects.

During the first nine months of 1947, Ohio State and municipal authorities let contracts for $63,000,000 in public construction, compared to $52,000,000 in the same period in 1946.

Of this $63,000,000, $23,000,000 in contracts were awarded by the state, $8,000,000 by counties and $32,000,000 by municipalities.

Municipal contracts let in the same period in 1946 amounted to less than $20,000,000.

Urges "Positive Steps"

The agency said in its report that "positive steps" are necessary to increase the rate of advance planning and added:

"Since federal aid to state and local governments to assist them in planning additional projects has been terminated, the impetus needed to increase the reserve of completed plans to a satisfactory level is gone."

It estimated that the dollar volume of needed new state and local public construction "could conservatively approximate" $75,000,000,000, exclusive of needs for housing and urban redevelopment.

This, it estimated, would provide an annual construction volume of $5,000,000,000, or nearly 2½ times the 1947 rate.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

THE wraith of a smile touched Mr. "K"'s lips as I put my breathless question. But it vanished when he began speaking.

"I can assure you," he said, "that your father was perfectly all right when he wrote this. I suggest that you give it to your husband to read, and I will give you the explanation immediately afterward."

I passed the letter to Dicky, and leaning back in my chair closed my eyes. With the photographic memory which my little mother began training when I was a tiny child, I could see every word that Dicky was reading.

"My darling:—" my father had written—his invariable salutation to me— "Mr. 'K' will explain this request, but I do not wish you to give the explanation to Olga. Simply tell her that I sorely need the things for which I am asking — something unexpected which requires them has come up —and I will give her the explanation as soon as possible.

"Please go to her at once, and ask her to write the alphabet, first in small letters, and then in capitals on a large sheet of manuscript paper. Phil has plenty of it. Also ask her to write the phrases I am enclosing, and to write "Affectionately yours, Olga," at least six times, leaving plenty of space between the signatures.

"I also want," the letter went on, "at least twenty sheets and envelopes of her note paper, the kind she keeps for her intimate correspondence. Tell her and Phil that I would not ask these things if it were not absolutely necessary that I have them, and that I shall see her within twenty-four hours and explain the situation fully. I do not wish to leave that explanation to any other lips, even yours. Olga is entitled to hear it from me.

Lovingly, Father."

I think I reached the end of the letter as soon as Dicky did. Then I saw his eyes go to the top of the page, and I knew that he also was rereading it with the same incredulous astonishment that had been mine.

When he reached the end, he gave a low whistle as he handed it back to me, and then looked at the FBI man questioningly.

"I suppose you've read this, K?" he said.

"Yes, Dicky I have," the other man returned,—their long vigil together at the time the Nazi nest on Eastern Long Island, with the destruction of a submarine, was forever rendered impotent had banished all formality of address between them — "and if you're ready, I'll give you the explanation the Chief wished."

"If you please," I held up a protesting hand — "wait until I come back from the Veritzen apartment."

Dicky nodded with his quick perception of my mental processes.

"I get you," he said with a comradely grin. "You don't want to be hampered in your conversation with Olga by knowing too much. You'd much rather be able to say truthfully that you haven't the slightest notion what is in your father's mind. For my part, I think you're a wise little hombre What do you say, 'K'?"

"I agree with your husband, Mrs. Graham," the FBI man said with his quick and charming smile. "It will be much better if you go to her without knowing the explanation back of the letter. But, do you think you will be able to get those things from her?"

"I think so," I told him. "She has the utmost confidence in my father."

"Old Phil's going to be the snag," Dicky predicted. I knew with reason. No old Texas steer's going to have anything on his laigs when they start kicking. Better keep out of range, old dear."

"I'll try to," I told him. "And now, if you'll excuse me, I'll telephone Olga to tell her I'm coming."

"You won't have to mention the letter, will you?" There was alarm in Mr. "K"'s voice.

"No, indeed," I told him as I went to the telephone.

Philip Veritzen answered my ring, but I had no desire to put my errand to him.

"May I speak to Olga?" I said. "I trust she hasn't gone to bed."

"In this family?" he countered with amusement in his voice. "No, she's right here. I'll call her."

"Thank you," I said, trying to keep my voice casual, and the next second I heard Olga's voice.

"Yes, Madge," she said, and I spoke rapidly.

"I have an important message for you," I said. "It is not advisable that anyone save yourself and Philip hear it. Can you manage that?"

Galion Fire Destroys UAW-CIO Headquarters

Special to The Star

GALION, Jan. 5—Fire of undetermined origin gutted the one-story frame headquarters of the United Auto Workers (CIO) union on West Railroad street late Saturday.

Leased early in the fall the union used the building during its 74-day strike at the North Electric Manufacturing company, and had established headquarters there since that time.

A part of the frame of the front part of the building was completely destroyed, the fire being well underway before the fire department arrived when it was summoned at 5 p. m. Furniture was destroyed by the blaze, but firemen saved about 30 or 40 cases of canned goods, some groceries, and five hams which were intact in the refrigerator. A piano was also ruined, but union officials believe a printing outfit can be used again.

The groceries had been brought to Galion several weeks ago by the UAW-CIO in hopes of establishing a buyers' club along the consumer's cooperative plan whereby the groceries are sold at cost to members of the club.

While firemen were fighting the blaze which attracted a large number of spectators, another crew of firemen were summoned to the Perfection Steel Body company to extinguish a blaze where a kettle of tar caught fire. Damage was small.

1947 Sheep Claims Top $5,000 in Crawford Co.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS—Increasing losses to sheep raisers in Crawford county as the result of attacks by dogs today brought a warning from County Auditor Frederick Klein and county commissioners that an increase in dog license fees is impending unless dog owners can prevent the growing claims.

Commissioners this week allowed 31 claims totaling $3,230 for the final quarter of 1947, setting a record in damages to animals by dogs in this county. The last settlement of claims brought the total for the year paid in damages to $5,006.24, which exceeds the appropriation from the dog and kennel fund for the year.

Largest of the claims allowed was presented by George Green Cranberry township, who was allowed $507.84. Commissioners said the cost of licenses would be hiked and the extra revenue be used to hire another dog warden unless losses drop next year.

Partially dry air blown over sheets of wet, crude rubber dry it faster than would air from which all moisture has been removed.

SENATOR HITS MEAT RATION

Wherry Declares It Won't Work Without Price Ceilings.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5—A contention that meat rationing would not work without price controls and that a combination of the two would "stifle" meat production came today from Senator Wherry (R-Neb.).

The Nebraskan expressed this opinion in commenting on plans of Senator Flanders (R-Vt.) to introduce legislation shortly authorizing the agriculture department to prepare for meat rationing to a point just short of putting it into effect.

Under the plan Flanders outlined over the week-end, congress would have to enact still another law to get actual rationing under way.

The agriculture department already is at work on some preliminary planning. Secretary Anderson, who has predicted Americans will be asking for meat rationing by spring, told a reporter he has assigned an assistant, Charles F. Brannan, to prepare recommendations in the event the department should be asked for them.

No Provisions for Ceilings

Flanders said his bill will make no provision for price ceilings on meat. But he expressed belief that rationing, properly handled, would have a restraining effect on prices.

Wherry, one of the chief critics of the old OPA, said his theory is "you just can't ration without price controls. Isn't that what Chester Bowles always taught us?"

Bowles is a former OPA administrator.

"What's more, rationing and price ceilings would only serve to stifle meat production," Wherry declared.

"Already all this talk of rationing is discouraging production. Cattle feeders are afraid to take a chance."

Would Trim Supply

Wherry contended that if congress were to authorize the agriculture department to go ahead with preparations, it would trim the meat supply sharply, even though rationing might never be instituted.

Another long-time critic of OPA used harsher words. Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex.) issued a statement in which he termed rationing a "communistic, totalitarian measure" which "will take the steaks out of the grocery stores and put them in swanky restaurants and hotels where bloated bureaucrats can feed on them three times a day out of their fat, tax money expense accounts.

O'Daniel urged housewives and cattlemen to join him in a demand that Anderson be ousted from the cabinet.

ONE FOX BAGGED IN GREEN CAMP HUNT

Two Others Seen as 250 Join in Roundup.

One fox was bagged and at least two others were seen in a hunt held Saturday at Green Camp. The drive was sponsored by the Green Camp K. of P. lodge with approximately 250 hunters attending. Two hawks were also killed by the hunters.

A number of men from surrounding counties participated in the contest along with the hunters from Marion county, and a number of Boy Scouts from nine different troops in the Marion district also took part. Lunch was served at noon by the Pythian Sisters.

O. H. Neimeyer of Prospect, game protector, announced another drive to be held Saturday, Jan. 10, in the territory of the Pleasant Township school. The F.F.A. of the Pleasant school is sponsoring this hunt and lunch will be served by the women of Trinity Lutheran church at the school where the headquarters for the drive will be located. All Scout troops in the Marion district are being urged to turn out to take part in this drive.

LEARNS OF DEATH

RICHWOOD — Walter Herford of near Richwood has received word of the death of his brother, Ernest Herford, 54, who was struck and killed instantly by an automobile Dec. 24, in front of his home in Berrien Springs, Mich. Mr. Herford was crossing the road to join a group of fellow workers employed at Benton Harbor, Mich., when the accident occurred.

LIVING COST CUTS MOROCCO'S HAREMS

By The Associated Press

FEZ, MOROCCO, Jan. 5—The high cost of living is slowly wiping out the harem in Morrocco. More and more Arabs are restricting themselves to one wife at a time.

The Koran entitles a man to four official spouses, in addition to an unrationed number of concubines, but that is just too expensive these days.

Before the war an Arab could "buy" a wife for 5,000 francs. Now a wife costs from 100,000 to 200,000 francs from $1,000 to $2,000.

Inflation is rampant in all phases of Moroccan life. Seven years ago a man could buy a camel for 400 franc. Just try to find one now for less than 12,000.

While there are few Pashas or Caids able to afford the jewels and "babouche" (gilded slippers) for four wives, there are ways of arriving at the same end.

An Arab can divorce a wife merely by telling her before witness: "It is better that you return to the house of your brother." And that's all there is to it. That's the divorce.

Should it happen that the wife is guilty of a serious offense, such as adultery, the husband can even get his money back.

When an Arab married he gives a sum of money to his bride's parents with which they outfit her with clothes and the cushions that constitute the furniture of an Arab room. In divorce cases in which the wives are at fault the parents are obliged to return the money.

Consequently, if a Moroccan can't afford to put on the dog by having four wives at the same time, it is a simple matter to have four different wives within a year.

Afraid of Dark, Thief Loots Lighted Homes

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., Jan. 5—Police had in custody today an 18-year-old confessed burglar who said he feared the dark and entered only houses in which lights were burning.

The youth told police he would not enter an unlighted house "because if anyone was in there, he could see me and I couldn't see him."

Estimating he had "pulled about two or three jobs a month since 1946," the youth said he reasoned he had a better chance of staging a successful burglary in a lighted residence.

HOME "INVADER" KILLED

CINCINNATI, Jan. 5—An owl with a 36-inch wingspread was killed Saturday night in the residence of Dr. Albert L. Haas. Police Patrolman Louis Noll, who knocked the bird off its perch on a floor lamp with his night stick, opined it has entered the house through the chimney as it was covered with soot.

SCIENCE HUNTS WAY TO PREDICT QUAKES

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Jan. 5—Scientists are making progress toward predicting earthquakes, reports Rev. Charles E. Deppermann, S. J., acting director of the Manila observatory in the Philippine islands.

Father Depperman stopped here to inspect John Carroll university's new seismological station with a view to setting up a similar one in Manila.

"We can now predict," the visiting priest said, "whether a strain in the earth's crust is building up. But just when it is going to pop we cannot yet say. We are making intensive studies of seismological records, and years of patient work still lie ahead.

"However," he added, "if some new method of exploring the interior of the earth is found, our task would be easier. Today we do not know enough of what that interior is made of to predict precisely when the strain has built up sufficiently to trigger off.

"We are gradually finding out this secret and the task certainly is not hopeless. I will not say it is impossible."

ASK LOWER BAIL FOR AUTO DEALER

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Jan. 5—Some of the persons who were left holding notes when Jack Singleton's auto agency collapsed in November today had signed petitions asking for a reduction in the $110,000 bail set for the dealer in slightly used cars.

Singleton's brother, William, a former employe of the John W. Singleton Motors, Inc., urged noteholders at a meeting yesterday to help free the jailed dealer so he could make good on his promises to deliver them automobiles.

The brother also called upon the noteholders to organize a receivership to take the company out of involuntary bankruptcy.

Sitting at the speakers' table with William Singleton was another brother, Robert, and Robert Adelman of Mansfield and Canton, against whom Richland county authorities hold an execution charging him with failure to deliver an automobile to a customer who paid him $2,015. Adelman allegedly peddled Singleton cars in downstate communities.

There were varying reactions from persons attending the meeting, but William Singleton said many signatures were placed on the petitions and that others promised to come to his home to add theirs.

It was disclosed at bankruptcy hearings last month that more than 400 customers had entered claims exceeding $750,000 against Singleton, who was indicted by a Cuyahoga county grand jury in December.

Boy, 7, Burned When He Pours Gas on Fire

ASHLEY, Jan. 5—Only surface burns were suffered by Paul Hickson, 7, when he threw gasoline onto live coals in a stove Friday night in a garage at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Hickson east of here. Quick action by a brother, Dick, 9, rolling him on the ground, put out flames which had caught the younger boy's clothing. The boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Hickson who live near the grandparents' home. The younger child suffered face burns when hte flames flared up as the gasoline touched the coals. He was treated at the office of an Ashley physician Saturday morning.

Eisenhower Memoirs Tax May Be Lowered

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will be able to save a substantial amount of federal taxes on the proposed sale of his memoirs because of a supreme court ruling that a copyright is a capital asset.

Thus if he copyrights his manuscript and sells it outright, the money he receives would be classed as a capital gain. A capital gain is taxed at 25 per cent. Regular income taxes on substantial sums run far higher than that.

If, as rumored, Eisenhower gets $500,000 for his memoirs, the capital gains tax would be $125,000. The income tax on $3,500,000 received in one year would be around $400,000.

A copyrighted manuscript is just as much a piece of property as a house or a business, the way the courts and internal revenue bureau look at it.

Your Good Health

The Value of Streptomycin

Streptomycin, like the wonder drug penicillin, is an antibiotic; that is, it combats disease by attacking the germs which cause it. Streptomycin is the more valuable in that it works against germs which are not affected by penicillin.

Penicillin, for instance, will do nothing against the germs which cause tuberculosis, but streptomycin sometimes has an almost miraculous way of routing them in certain types of cases.

Streptomycin has clearly established its value in the treatment of tularemia, a disorder which is often contracted from handling wild rabbits. In practicaly every case of tularemia treated with streptomycin, complete recovery has occurred.

Infections of the urinary tract, due to coli bacillus, have also responded satisfactorily to streptomycin, but not all cases are cured by it. Infections of the urinary tract, with germs known as P. ammoniae and A. aerogenes also are cured with streptomycin. The treatment should be carried out intensively for a period of from five to seven days.

The influenza bacillus is also sensitive to the action to streptomycin. Influenzal meningitis has been treated with the preparation in combination with the sulfonamide drugs and serums, and many cures have been brought about.

When streptomycin is given, it diffuses or passes throughout the body tissues. The amount in the blood reaches the highest level in about two or three hours after the injection of streptomycin is given into a muscle. It is excreted rather quickly by the kidneys. About 60 per cent to 80 per cent is excreted in the urine within 24 hours.

Streptomycin also gets into the fluid in the spinal column and in the brain, but does not reach the brain tissue in significant amounts

It is excreted in bile and, therefore, may prove of value in certain infections in the gall-bladder and liver. Small amounts of it also are excreted in the breast milk.

It has been found that when streptomycin is taken by mouth, it gets rid of certain germs in the intestinal tract. Thus, it may have a future use in the preparation of patients for intestinal operation.

Streptomycin may be given by what is known as nebulization, that is, in the form of a mist of vapor by blowing air through an atomizer having the streptomycin solution.

Questions and Answers

T. O.: Without any apparent reason my lips often swell. Can you tell what causes this?

Answer: It is probable that you have angio-neurotic edema. This condition is an acute disease of the skin characterized by one or more swellings which come quickly and disappear almost as rapidly. Treatment consists in getting rid of the cause. Often, there is a food in the diet which is strange or unusual. Such simple ones as eggs or berries may be the offenders. The use of a laxative during the attack helps to clear it up.

When the condition is chronic, it is often very difficult to find the cause. A search should be made for spots of infection throughout the body. The bowels and kidneys should be kept active and the individual should drink plenty of water. Coffee, tea, and other stimulants should be avoided.

Calcium drugs have been found valuable in treating angio-neurotic edema, and various lotions have been used for the itching.

FORMER GALION MAN HONORED BY KIWANIS

Don Mumford New Head of New York Club.

Special to The Star

GALION—A former Galion man, Don Mumford has again been signally honored by Kiwanis. He has been named president of the Kiwanis club of New York City, the largest and only club on Manhattan, and the second largest club in the United States.

Mumford at one time was president of the Galion Kiwanis club. He later advanced to lieutenant governor and then became governor of the Ohio Kiwanis district after he moved to Bellefontaine.

Mumford will be installed in his new office in New York on Jan. 15 at the McAlpin hotel by a Galion man, Rev. Philip E. Auer, pastor of Peace Lutheran church. Rev. Auer is a past international vice president and also a former governor of the Ohio district of Kiwanis. Mumford and Rev. Auer started Kiwanis work together in Galion when Rev. Auer appointed him on his first committee of Kiwanis education several years ago.

In Galion, Mumford was yard master for the New York Central railroad before being advanced to Bellefontaine where he assumed a similar position. He was then sent to New York City to become assistant to the Chief Director of Safety for the railroad company, and now has the position of Chief Director of Safety.

ANOTHER PEAK YEAR PREDICTED FOR STEEL

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Jan. 5 — The magazine Steel reported today that the metalworking industry set a peacetime record last year of $60 billion in total production and forecast a slight dollar volume increase in 1948.

The trade publication, in its weekly survey of the industry, said the physical volume this year would be about the same as last.

It predicted between 12 and 24 months would be required to balance supply and demand in steel and said 1948 production in this industry should come close to 86,000,000 tons, more than a million tons higher than in 1947.

"Although three million tons capacity each for ingots, pig iron and coke are being added, shortages of scrap and transportation facilities will prevent full utilization during the year," the magazine reported.

Summarizing the outlook for other industries Steel said:

"Automobile production will again be hampered by shortages of sheet steel, but will probably hit 5½ million units, making 1948 in prospect the second highest year in the industry's history.

"Railroad equipment, on a similar boom, will be held down as in 1947 by unbalance of components in the supply lines.

"Aircraft and shipbuilding industries are suffering in the opposite direction and cannot expect enough business in 1948 to keep more than a fraction of their facilities in operation.

"Aside from the latter two industries, soft spots in the market seem to be in household appliances and radio receivers, where some makers are preparing for a buyers' market in 1948."

The magazine added that the demand continued undiminished for agricultural equipment, most lines of machinery, construction steel and all types of containers.

Of the total number of permits issued in 1947, 53 were for residences; 32 for garages; 21 for remodeling; six for commercial buildings and one for a church.

It's Time To Wake Up

THE navy department has announced that a detachment of Marines is being sent to man U.S. ships in Greek and Italian ports, a move that means this government is offsetting the proclamation of a Communist state in northern Greece.

President Truman asked congress for $400,000 to support a plan of economic aid for Greece in March, 1947. His request followed appeals from Greece for help and Britain's announcement that it would withdraw its troops in Greece during the summer, leaving the Greeks at the mercy of Russian plans to turn it into a Communist puppet state.

To disarm those who feared his "doctrine" might lead to war with Russia, Mr. Truman gave his promise to congressional leaders that no military power would be used. U.S. assistance was to be for the sole purpose of helping the Greeks and Turks create a "way of life free from coercion." The key statement in the President's message to congress was this: "I believe that it must be the policy of the United States to support free people who are resisting attempted subjugation by armed minorities or by outside pressure."

Those who thought through the matter at the time knew, however, that the Truman doctrine would lead inevitably to deeper commitments and, unless Russia eased its own military pressure, to armed intervention. They compared it to the Monroe doctrine, under which the United States became the armed guardian of North and South America, protecting it against old world governments. Their conclusion was not popular at the time, but it was correct. Events have proved it to be correct.

The Truman doctrine has been enlarged and is now awaiting congressional action as the Marshall plan. The United States has sent Greece military supplies, military advisers and has stationed warships in Greek waters as a demonstration of its determination to back up its economic aid with military action, if necessary. It has been made plain that economic help isn't enough to save a country whose own government is weak and whose weakness is being exploited ruthlessly by Communist troops fighting against it on Greek territory.

Only the blind can refuse to see that the United States must follow through its commitment to help Greece and Turkey resist "outside pressure." The commitment may mean, before the end of 1948, the use of United States military power in the Balkan peninsula. As the new session of congress convenes this week, the United States is as near the brink of war as it was before Pearl Harbor.

Loyalty Review Procedure

THE loyalty review board under its chairman, Seth W. Richardson, has worked out what appears to be an eminently fair system of examining the government employe whose loyalty is questioned.

The suspected employe will have an opportunity to answer charges. The board will furnish a bill of particulars and, where possible, the source. The federal bureau of investigation will compile such data and in some cases it would be against the government's interests to reveal the source. However, the FBI presents only evidence, not decommendations.

The same persons who have cried out against the congressional un-American activities investigation have protested against the loyalty review board, but here their solicitude for the bill of rights has less validity. A public employe's rights aren't identical with those of a citizen. Justice Holmes has said that the Constitution doesn't guarantee a citizen a government job, that the government has the right to establish its own standards.

The board's procedure shows it is aware of its responsibility. No one's rights will be violated. But treasonists, secret enemies and saboteurs have no rights.

Healthy Orphans

IN A BOOK titled "140,000,000 Patients," Carl Malmberg, formerly of the United States public health service, cites the fact that 40 per cent of the men called up for induction were rejected because of physical defects. Applicants for the women's services were rejected in about the same proportion. In some states the rejection rate was higher. North Carolina's being 56.8 per cent, yet a survey of 1,138 former North Carolina orphanage children showed only 16 failed to qualify for military duty.

Looking for a reason for this disparity, Dr. Clarence Poe of the North Carolina Hospital and Medical Care commission says, "These orphanages are supported by poor people and the boys are not coddled, are not given luxuries. They are given sound nutrition and reasonably adequate hospital and medical care." When they needed medical attention, they received it without delay. It wasn't a matter of parental follow-up of school physicians' recommendations.

It is an impressive statistic. One conclusion to be drawn from it is that children thrive better when practical care is substituted for loving care. Another is that institutional medical care entails advantages not available to more fortunate children in their own homes.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Russia's Two Gateways To Power.

SOVIET Russia moves upon the western world through two gateways, Greece and China. In both, Russia is making strides because the only opponent of her policy, the United States, is unwilling to establish a rigid policy to be carried through at any cost. Less than that will not balk the Russians, intent on the conquest of Europe and Asia by techniques that do not include traditional war.

Russian imperialism employs as its principal instruments three weapons, none of which have in the past been associated with war. These weapons are:

SOKOLSKY

1. Acceleration of confusion by ideological penetration: This technique is particularly effective in periods of governmental weakness, of hunger, internal dissension, individual and national poverty. In a word, when the people are terrorized by the circumstances of their lives, the Russians use, in each country, indigenous, native Communist parties to stir up more strife, more hatreds, more antagonisms, to intensify class, racial and religious hatred. The result is that everywhere so intense is the internal confusion that a well-knit, highly organized, externally-directed party hits hard and as a unit. The weaker, the more tired a people, the more quickly the Communists succeed. It is a point that the country that has resisted them longest is China—since 1924.

2. Opportunistic propaganda containing sufficient truth to give the impression of the whole truth: whereas the Communists have a philosophy of theory and action that is fixed in the writings of Hegel, Marx, Engles, Lenin, Bukharin, and even Stalin, they temporarily deviate from their basic line when such a deviation adds to power. However, upon the achievement of their immediate purpose, they return to their basic concepts. Thus, Mr. Roosevelt, who believed that he had talked Stalin, and charmed him, into being a good fellow, would, were he alive, now know that Stalin and his government had returned to their ideological basis of 1939. Time is not the factor—for like all Hegelians, the Communists believe that their triumph is historically inevitable.

Work Both Ways

Thus, it is possible for the Communists, directed from the same source, to conduct a propaganda in favor of Catholicism in France while killing priests and nuns in Yugoslavia and Poland. Similarly, it is possible for them to be pro-Zionist at the United Nations while outlawing Zionism in Soviet Russia. Consistency in propaganda is unnecessary and even unwise, but consistency in basic concept and purpose is permanent.

Nor is truth of any importance. They have spread throughout Europe the falsehood that the United States is in the depths of depression and that the most serious problem we face arises from the persecution of the Negroes. Actually, 1947 has been a year of unvarying prosperity here, somewhat but not dangerously inflated, and the American Negro lives on a higher standard than comparable white folks east of the Rhine. Truth does not matter if it will add to power.

3. The use of natives to destroy a government which, through the federative principle, becomes part of the Soviet Union: by fomenting either civil war or the development of a forceful political party or the capture of crucial labor unions or all three at once, Soviet Russia first weakens and then captures a country without using Russian troops. Thus no actual warlike step has been taken by them. Instead, local actions occur involving only natives which are so arranged that if the United States sought to safeguard a government or even American interests, it would be the United States, or any other free country, that would be interfering in the internal affairs of another country.

Just "Patriots"

Along with this technique Soviet Russia conducts a worldwide propaganda to the effect that her agents are not Communists at all: they are merely patriots in their own country. The best example of that is the widespread and dishonest propaganda, conducted almost entirely by Americans, that the Chinese Communists, who have been associated with Soviet Russia since the early 1920's, are not Communist but patriotic Chinese. Those who say so are not innocents — the documentation is too clear. They must be accepted as untruthful.

These three weapons have thus far failed only in China, Greece, France, Italy, and the Scandinavian countries. They have not been employed everywhere, but they will be.

In Case You're Feeling Young Today . . .

Shirley Temple is expecting a baby this month.

It is later than you think.

News of Shirley's infanticipating will come as a distinct shock to millions who still haven't gotten used to the idea of a bald-headed Jackie Coogan.

Shirley a mother. It seems she ought to be mixing mudpies instead of fixing formula.

Anyday now, I expect to see that Baby LeRoy has applied for his old age pension.

Yes sir, it's funny how fast everybody ages but yourself.

Or at least you think so until one day, going home on the bus, a nice kid gets up and says generously: "Here, pop, have my seat."

U. S. Overextends World Aid

By Walter Lippmann

NEVER more than in the next six months while congress is in session will so much depend on whether practical judgment is to be the master of our fears and our wishes. Practical judgment is first of all the act of comparing what this country can do with what, if it were not opposed, or if it were omnipotent, it would be desirable to do. It will be obvious that it is impossible to do everything for which a strong, even a compelling, case can be made. Practical judgment then consists in choosing to what ends the available limited means shall be applied.

LIPPMANN

It is the principles of practical judgment which distinguish common sense from hysteria, and statesmanship from agitation, and national commitments which can be realized from entanglements which end in bankruptcy.

The necessity for practical judgment confronts us now because the claims upon our resources, our military power, influence, and competence are now excessive. They cannot all be met. The total will have to be reduced. The question as a matter of fact will be whether the total claims are to be reduced crudely and without a plan by Mr. Taft and Mr. Taber, who will look at the budget but not at the high national interest, or whether they will be reduced by selection on the considered decision of Mr. Marshall, Mr. Forrestal, Mr. Snyder and Mr. Harriman.

I think it is fair to name these four principal cabinet officers as the men who must in agreement make the decision with the president's approval, which will bring into balance our responsibilities and our over-all resources, our commitments and our power, our means and our ends.

At Production Peak

The limiting factor in making this decision is that the productive capacity of this country is now fully employed and cannot be expanded very much very rapidly. In the primary components of national wealth, in food, in raw materials, in steel and in transportation there is, of course, room for greater efficiency, harder work, better management and productive investment. But for the practical purposes of those who make national policy the net improvement possible quickly is negligible as compared with the immense totals. There is not now, as there was in 1940, a very large reserve of unusual facilities and unemployed labor.

Against these inelastic resources we must measure the claims. First and foremost are the huge deferred claims, the unspent purchasing power, accumulated by individuals and corporations during the war. This is the domestic inflation. It is, moreover, of a kind which is creating more inflation, and could potentially through the expansion of bank credit create almost unlimited inflation. If this inflation is not checked drastically and resolutely by taxation, a budgetary surplus, and by monetary retriction it can devour all the means which we must find to maintain our military security and to support our foreign policy.

If the Democrats and the Republicans cannot agree on an anti-inflationary policy, the Kremlin will not have miscalculated when it holds that a domestic crisis in the United States will change the world situation in their favor. But the Democrats and the Republicans will not agree, and the real issue will be lost in cheap politics, it the administration does not concentrate its effort on checking the cause of inflation rather than on the demagogic palliatives to deal with the high prices which are only the effects of inflation.

Nation Is Over-Extended

The inflated claims of American consumers and of American business enterprise upon our limited resources are in competition with many other claims. The two principal ones come from the armed forces and the State department. Here decisions of high policy will have to be taken. For it will be impossible at one and the same time to find the funds for a strategic air force, a navy which commands all the oceans, a ground army based on universal service, research and development of new revolutionary weapons, the Marshall plan for western Europe, the occupation and reconstruction of enemy territory, the support of Greece, Turkey, Iran, the Arab states, and China, and our implied obligations under the good neighbor policy.

We are morally and politically overextended. Decisive choices, each of which involves sacrifice, risk, losses, and deep misgiving

PLATFORM FOR HENRY

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Wednesday, Jan. 5, 1938.

Justice George Sutherland, who was past 75 years of age, notified President Roosevelt he would retire from active service on the supreme court bench on Jan. 18. He was appointed an associate justice in 1922 by President Harding and ranked next to Chief Justice Hughes as the leading writer of opinions on administration litigation.

Twenty-five cases of measles, nine in rural areas and 16 in Marion city, were reported for Marion county for the two weeks from Dec. 15 to Jan. 1, in a bulletin from the state department of health.

Samuel E. Bricker, 80, died at his home in Green Camp.

Miss Mildred Wetterauer was elected president at a meeting of the Athenaeum club at the home of Miss Pauline Ruhl on Lafayette street.

Mrs. Kathryn Emery and Mrs. Velda Hensen entertained the Catherine Luther guild of the Evangelical Lutheran church at Prospect, at the home of Mrs. Emery in Prospect.

Mrs. Jay Scribner was hostess for a meeting of the Harmonie society of Salem Evangelical and Reformed church at her home on Wallace street.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Thursday, Jan. 5, 1928.

Announcement was made that the boulevard from the Harding Memorial would be extended through the McKinley park. Decision to add another link to the boulevard was reached after city officials and county commissioners decided to improve the drive from Vernon Heights to Delaware avenue.

The municipal court at the end of its first year of operation showed a net profit of $4,941.17, according to a report issued by Judge William R. Martin.

Mrs. R. G. Williamson was elected president of the Bay View club in a meeting at the home of Miss Nettie Smith of East Center street.

The Marion Steam Shovel Co. was starting the year with the largest accumulation of unfilled orders in its history. Bright picture of the company's prospects was painted by J. L. Ackerson, president, at a dinner of the Marion Steam Shovel club at Hotel Harding.

Mrs. Robert McMurray and daughter Charlotte Ann were guests when Mrs. Cloyce Taylor entertained the A. N. W. club at her home on Uhler avenue.

Pandora's Box Again

By Stewart and Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON—The American people have received a remarkable gift for the New Year. It has been presented to them by a small-statured, cheerful Air Forces captain called Charles Yaeger. And it is perhaps typical of the times in which we live that, although like the atomic bomb Yaeger's New Year's gift has great potentialities for peace, it can also become an efficient instrument of mass extinction in a new war.

Yaeger is the first man in the world to have penetrated the sonic barrier. He has flown a plane faster than the speed of sound, which many of the world's best aviation experts doubted could be done at all. They had suspected that the speed of sound was an aerodynamic barrier through which no man could pass alive. Now that Yaeger has penetrated the barrier, the experts will tell you that it is the most important event in the history of aviation since Orville Wright flew his flimsy kite at Kitty Hawk; that it opens up a whole new dimension in the science of flight; that it is a development comparable in its way to the invention of the atomic bomb, and that it requires the recasting of many basic strategic concepts.

They will also tell you, as one Air Force general has soberly remarked, that Yaeger's feat "will rank with the bravest acts of American history." It had been attempted before. One of the most recent attempts was in an English De Haviland plane especially designed to penetrate the sonic barrier.

Only A Flash

Observers on the ground reported that as the De Haviland roared into the sonic speed zone, there was the sudden flash of an explosion. The plane must have disintegrated, since no trace of plane or pilot was found. For years pilots had been saying that to hit the speed of sound was to hit a stone wall, and the De Haviland tragedy seemed to prove it. Yet Yaeger volunteered to try again. In a small rocket-propelled Air Forces experimental plane, the XS1, suspended at take off from the belly of a B-29 bomber, he succeeded.

It is difficult, according to the experts, to exaggerate the significance of this success. In the first place, it proves that a human being is capable of surviving the terrible buffetting administered by the sonic barrier, and the awful speed of supersonic flight. In the second place, Yaeger's flight has proved that a plane of fairly conventional design can pass through the barrier. Many technicians had believed that the job could only be done, if at all, by a plane shaped much like one of the German's supersonic missiles—like an attenuated bullet with swept back wings. Yet the XS-1 is shaped much like other high speed planes. Immense power, rather than unconventional design, sufficed to force both plane and pilot safely through the sonic barrier into the strange dimension of speed faster than sound.

Yaeger's flight has by no means given all the answers to the wholly new problems of supersonic flight, and most of the answers which it has given are of course secret. But this much is known. Once the sonic barrier is penetrated, there are no further known aerodynamic limits to the speed of flight. Moreover, on the far side of the barrier, what the technicians call the "fuel-speed-range ratio" is altered.

Range Increases

Thus not only the speed of the plane, but also its potential range, while it remains on the far side of the barrier of the speed of sound, are greatly increased.

Obviously the possibilities opened up by the conquest of this fourth dimension in aviation are staggering. Yaeger, and the scientists who made his feat possible, have vastly accelerated the process begun by the Wright Brothers of squeezing the size of the world. The old Sunday supplement standby of a two or three-hour flight from New York to London becomes more than a theoretical possibility. But unfortunately the significance of Yaeger's penetration of the sonic barrier is not confined to the pleasures of intercontinental week ends.

No doubt it will be some time before a piloted long-range bomber is developed capable of duplicating Yaeger's feat in his tiny plane. But such a supersonic bomber also becomes more than a theoretical possibility. That in turn means that traditional strategic conceptions must be re-examined. For Yaeger's flight has demonstrated that a plane capable of carrying an atomic bomb, and of being guided to its target by a pilot, flying at a speed so great as to be almost immune from interception from the ground is now practical. Indeed, already the technicians are speculating seriously on the potential use of a piloted supersonic plane as a shepherd guiding a great flock of unpiloted supersonic missiles to their target.

Disastrous Security Leak

The Air Forces consider the publication of the facts of Yaeger's flight the most disastrous security break in many years. That in itself illuminates the strange dilemma in which the world finds itself in the year 1948. For the development of such weapons as the supersonic plane clearly demands a true world authority—"one world." Yet post-war Soviet policy has made one world impossible. And while the world is split in two, the United States must look to its security in the secret race for ever more perfect weapons of mass annihilation.

News from Key West

By TRUMAN TWILL

THE following telegram, which needs no comment, was received late yesterday (collect) from T. Manville, the Twillery's traveling tomcat. He was in Key West, Fla.

Happy New Year. Please pay me in advance through western Union for all the columns I'm going to help you write the next six months. I have got myself into trouble. It will take me a couple of dollars to get fixed up. My ear is slit, and something is sprung in my tail, which I cannot get into an upright position.

Please do not be sore about this because it might have happened to you. Maybe it did. Who knows? I remember one time after New Year's eve when you couldn't get your tail into an upright position. But maybe I shouldn't have such a good memory. Anyway, even though it might have happened to you, I am not real clear about how it happened to me.

All I know is that I stepped out for a breath of air on New Year's eve and fell among evil companions. I had not intended to do anything more, honest I hadn't, than do a little deep-breathing, when these fellows gave me the high sign and, out of courtesy, I chased them a few blocks. They were pretty playful pussy cats, let me tell you, but I taught them a few tricks.

At the time, you see, I didn't know it was New Year's eve. Time passes so quickly here in the Sunny South I thought it was still Thanksgiving, but when they told me it was going to be a new year I saw merit in the idea. That was when the trouble started, because they knew where there was some left-over cooking sherry. It was in a pan on a back porch. People shouldn't be so careless.

We licked up all the sherry, cleaned ourselves up and sang a few verses of "Sweet Adeline" in three parts, with me doing the baritone. Then we began to chase one another again and the faster we ran the faster we seemed to be able to run, probably somthing to do with the sherry. It doesn't take much of anything like that to squiff a cat. We ran and ran and ran. We passed automobiles that seemed to be standing still. We even passed a train, but maybe it had a hot box. We picked up new companions as we went along, including a couple of society cats of the opposite sex and whatever it was that gave them that extra zip it must have been better than cooking sherry because they could run faster than anybody.

All of a sudden I realized I was running in the water, so I backed up and sat down. There were no cats around anywhere. I had outlasted them all. When I got my breath, I scouted around and found a native cat, who told me I was visiting Key West, which is a far piece from Miami. He couldn't believe I'd done it so I didn't argue with him. I don't see how I did it myself. But now I have to get fixed and go back to Miami. That's why I need money in advance. How did you New Year's eve — and Happy 1948 to you and your family.

STATE PARTY SESSIONS SET

Central Committees To Name "Presidential Pickers" This Week.

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, Jan. 5 — Ohio's two political parties will name their presidential pickers here early this week, starting political activity in 1948, a year which today promised rough-and-tumble action.

The state Democratic committee will meet tomorrow to choose a nominal "favorite son." The Republicans will meet Wednesday. Central committees of both parties will name delegates and alternates to the 1948 presidential conventions.

Although both parties will have first and second choices for the presidential nominations, the Democrats actively support President Harry S. Truman, while the Republicans will boost Sen. Robert A. Taft. First and second choices are a formality to comply with Ohio election laws without requiring the president to announce as a candidate.

The first choice post may go to W. A. Julian of Cincinnati, United States treasurer. Four years ago the nominal favorite son of Ohio Democrats was state Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson. They were actually supporting the late President Roosevelt.

Taft the G.O.P. Choice

Taft will be the active candidate of Republicans in Ohio. The Republican committee, already pledged to support Taft, will name only a second choice candidate. It will be in close touch with Taft in naming its second choice and national convention delegates.

The state Republicans will have 53 votes at the G.O.P. convention in June at Philadelphia—44 district delegates and nine delegates-at-large each having a full vote. Democrats will have 50 votes at their convention in July. A bonus of three votes was awarded the G.O.P. for carrying the state in 1944. The Democrats will name 44 district delegates each having a full vote, and 12 delegates-at-large with a half-vote apiece.

The two organizations have less than a month to obtain signatures on the delegates' and alternates' petitions.

State Convention Plans

Arrangements must also be made soon by the central committees for the state conventions which are held after the primary elections in May. The state conventions adopt party platforms and name candidates for presidential electors at the general election in November.

The G.O.P. practice of backing a "harmony slate" of state candidates will be continued this year and the central committee may endorse all present Republican state officers at the Jan. 7 meeting.

The chief questions in Democratic circles is when former Gov. Frank J. Lausche will announce his candidacy. Lausche is expected to open a bitter primary fight against boss rule as personified in Ray T. Miller organization candidate for governor.

If a Democratic organization slate is agreed upon, the party will support Miller for governor, Frazier Reams of Toledo for attorney general and Ferguson for re-election as auditor.

BAND LEADER'S FATHER DIES

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., Jan. 5—Michael J. Cummins, 90-year-old father of bandman Bernie Cummins, died yesterday at his home here. Cummins, who signed a total abstinence pledge when eight years old, was one of Ohio's leading temperance workers. The Cummins orchestra is scheduled to open a hotel night club engagement in Columbus tonight. It was indicated, however, that the band probably would appear without its leader.

STRICKEN CITIES AIDED BY THAW

By The Associated Press

A widespread thaw came to the aid of the ice-coated midwest today as New York City, after a nine-day fight, neared complete emergence from its record 25.8-inch snowfall.

The Chicago weather bureau said temperatures would climb well above freezing over most of the midwest today and most of the snow which fell in the wake of last week's freezing rain and sleet probably would be melted by nightfall, along with the ice on communications wires, poles and trees. But another day of similar temperatures probably would be required to dispose of the ice which lies under the snow, said Forecaster W. N. Percy.

Except for readings of 14 degrees at Rockford and Moline, Ill., last night the mercury dipped no lower generally than the 20s in the midwest. Some areas reported a night-long thaw with readings in the lower 30s.

At Minneapolis, the temperature climbed during the night to 32 degrees, about 15 degrees above normal. Chicago had a minimum of 28 early today.

A few widely scattered snow flurries were reported in some northern midwestern states last night and more were in prospect today with little change in temperatures, except becoming somewhat colder in northern Wisconsin and Minnesota.

"Nice weather prevails throughout most of the rest of the country," Percy said, adding that a slightly warming tendency was in pospect for the New England states where temperatures climbed above freezing yesterday.

Huber Company's Argentina Distributor Brings Bride Here

On her first visit to the United States, Mrs. Roberto Dobranich of Buenos Aires is visiting Marion in company with her husband, who is the Argentina distributor for the Huber Manufacturing Co.

Tall, slender, blue-eyed and with dark brown hair, Mrs. Dobranich this afternoon joined her husband and executives of the Huber company on a tour of the plant.

Interested in every phase of a country whose vastness astonishes her, even though her husband prepared her with accounts of previous visits he had made, Mrs. Dobranich was deeply interested in the tour of an American industrial operation.

The trip to the United States is a honeymoon visit for the couple, who were married Nov. 22, 1947 in a large church ceremony in Buenos Aires. They left Buenos Aires Nov. 28 by ship and arrived in New Orleans Dec. 17. In New Orleans they purchased a 1948 model car the day after their arrival, and began the trip to Marion. Enroute they stopped in St. Louis and Chicago, spending a day in the former city and several days in Chicago. The size of Chicago was amazing to the bride, but the chief attraction was the fairyland of Chicago in its holiday attire and particularly the size and beauty of Marshall Field's department store.

Great for Motorists

A point on which both Mr. and Mrs. Dobranich are agreed—the United States is a wonderful country for a motorist; filling stations dot the land. They also are impressed by the number of small cities, towns and villages along the highways and the cleanliness of every community.

While Mrs. Dobranich understands English and can speak it, she prefers to address strangers through her husband, speaking fluently in Spanish which he can translate into her thoughts and impressions much better than if she spoke in English. A word that has been used by so many Americans that it became a research problem this morning, is "acres."

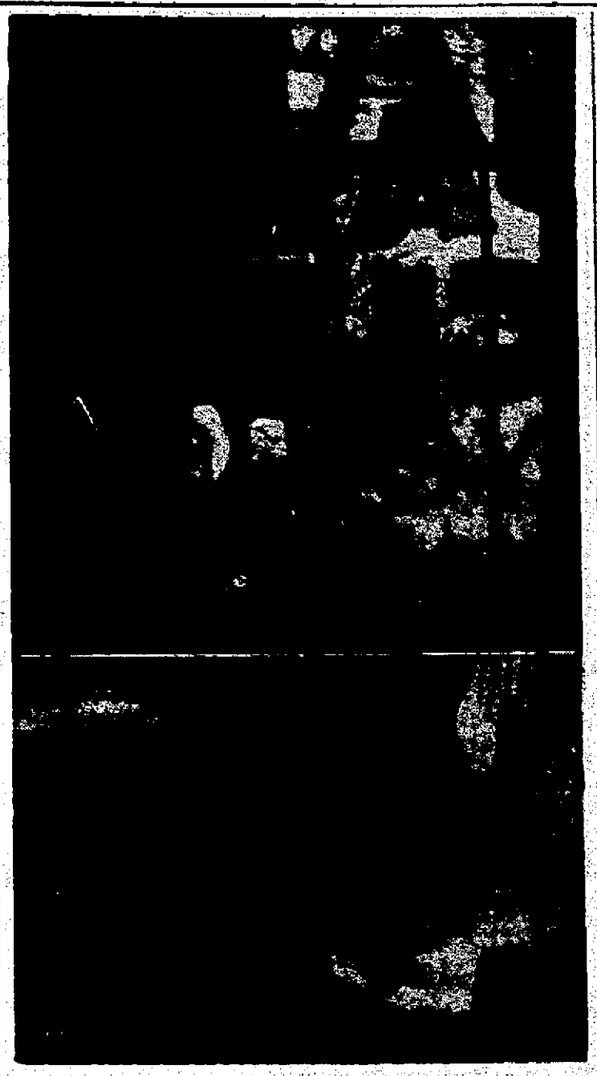
"Everyone speaks of buildings, farms, plants, towns, in terms of acres, but no one can tell me how big an acre is," Mr. Dobranich explained. To end the confusion, Willis R. Nye, manager of export for the Huber Company, explained that an acre comprises 4,840 square yards. That size was comprehensible to the visitor.

Huber rollers of all sizes and types are being used in Argentina on road building and airport construction projects, Mr. Dobranich explained. With no importing of machinery during World War II, the amount of work to be done is immense and calls for all types of road building and construction machinery.

To Return in February

Mr. and Mrs. Dobranich are staying at Hotel Harding while they are in Marion. They plan to return to Buenos Aires about the first of February, leaving this country from either New Orleans or Miami.

Mr. Dobranich wants his bride to see New York City and Washington, D. C., and any other points of interest they can manage in the time allotted for the trip. Mr. Dobranich has visited the United States several times. Along the way, Mrs. Dobranich is collecting match covers as one way of keeping an account of her travels for her friends in Buenos Aires. The couple expects to leave Marion Wednesday or Thursday of this week.



MORE PALESTINE-BOUND MUNITIONS FOUND. Following the accidental discovery of thousands of pounds of TNT and munitions manufacturing machinery when a case, being loaded aboard the S.S. Executor of the American Export Lines and bound for Palestine, fell from a loading sling and burst open on a Jersey City pier, FBI agents and police raided a large Bronx warehouse and found hundreds of similar cases of explosives and equipment. At the top, a raiding officer inspects one of the packing cases marked "industrial machinery" and containing equipment for making ammunition. One of the machines for loading rifle ammunition is shown in the lower picture. (International Soundphotos)

STUDY PLANE STRESS AT HIGH ALTITUDES

By The Associated Press

BERKELEY, Calif., Jan. 5—Scientific progress in simulating plane flight conditions at speeds up to 3,000 miles an hour and in photographing the shock waves which planes will encounter in the thin atmosphere of extremely high altitudes were reported today by the University of California.

Work virtually has been completed on the model of a wind tunnel, developed by Eneas Kane, lecturer in engineering, and R. G. Folsom, professor of mechanical engineering. Unlike present supersonic research wind tunnels, which simulate speeds at sea level, this tunnel is expected to enable scientists to explore the problems of speed at altitudes up to 300,000 feet.

The actual tunnel is expected to be completed this year. The method involved is: air is drawn out one side, creating a partial vacuum; the air enters the other side through a high velocity nozzle; these create supersonic speeds past models of planes or rockets under high altitude conditions.

The new photograph method was developed by Ralph Evans, a graduate student in engineering, and Dr. S. A. Shaaf, mathematician for the project. It involves the use of xenon gas.

DEMOCRATS LAUNCH RELIEF PLAN BATTLE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5—Senator Connally (D-Tex) declared today that if congress were to deny Secretary of State Marshall direction over the European recovery program "Moscow would placard it to the world a an evidence of Russian victory over President Truman."

Connally is the top Democrat on the senate foreign relations committee. His statement thus apparently fired the administration's first gun in reply to growing demands among congressional Republicans that the long range foreign aid program be divorced from state department control.

Noting that Russia "is bitterly fighting the Marshall plan," the Texas senator said the Soviet Union "would applaud taking the execution of the plan out of the hands of the secretary of state and placing it elsewhere."

"There would be no Russian veto on such a plan," Connally continued. Russian drums would beat and the Soviets would hurrah and their propaganda machines would send out over the air claims and statements that their fight against the plan had been largely successful."

Connally said it "is known in Moscow" that President Truman "has already publicly indicated that he desires the Marshall plan administered by the secretary of state under his direction."

The U. S. Government Printing Office used 4,196 carloads of paper in 1946.

G.O.P. DISCOUNTING WALLACE'S VENTURE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5—Wary Republicans began revising downward today their estimates of the effect Henry Wallace's third party venture may have on the November presidential election.

Supporters of Senator Taft of Ohio, an announced candidate, said significantly they are discounting talk that Wallace's move will make it easier for Taft to obtain the Republican nomination.

This theory had been advanced by many G.O.P. members who contended that Taft's popularity with organization Republicans was offset by the widespread belief that he would have difficulty defeating President Truman in a strictly two-man race.

"We're not easing up any in our drive for delegates on the assumption that the going is any smoother than before," a Taft strategist told a reporter. "We think that having Wallace in the race can't hurt Taft and can't hurt the Republicans, but we don't think it makes much difference in the final outcome.

Politicians in both major party camps have been wondering whether Wallace will go the route in his obviously hopeless bid for election. Some say it might not be to difficult for Wallace to change his mind and drop out of the race later on.

But a Democrat high in the counsels of his party said Mr. Truman's supporters are pretty well convinced that the former vice president intends to have his name on the ballot in as many states as possible in November.

PROGRESS NOT BASHFUL

By The United Press

CLAREMORE, Okla.—The famous quotation "All I know is what I read in the papers" has been adopted, with a slight change, by a newspaper in the native city of the man who said it. In the masthead of the Claremore Progress is a photograph of the late Will Rogers, presumably holding a copy of the Progress. The masthead reads, "All I know is what I read in the Claremore Progress."

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

The President now is for lenient treatment of grain speculators providing they were in the market unknown to them and in the White House unknown to him.

It appears that Mr. Truman's denunciation of grain speculators on Oct. 16 should have been labeled, "Not intended for broadcast to the armed forces . . . particularly generals."

• • •

The best fate I can think of for grain speculators is deliver the stuff at their door . . . It would be interesting to see some of those traders trying to handle dry rye.

But now that the grain furor has died down we can give our full attention to Mr. Wallace's five-year plan . . . He evidently figures on holding over an extra year.

This is Henry's second five-year plan . . . His first ended at the Democratic convention of 1944.

But then that's life . . . Here today, goner tomorrow.

Roving Reports

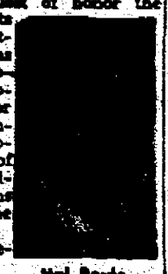
By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

ONE of the more grisly ways to put yourself to sleep in America is to count the sodden pitches made by long-winded after-dinner speakers.

There is an organization here, however, which is doing something to give audiences their revenge.

It is the Circus Saints and Sinners Society. This unique club reverses the usual procedure by making the guest of honor the "fall guy" of its monthly meetings. And it has become so popular that celebrities angle for a chance to endure the two-hour program of pranks and ridicule that wins them a lifetime membership.



Hal Boyle

The society began this way:

In 1931 F. Darius Benham, a newspaperman, complained to friends in Sardi's about the boredom of banquets at which the honored guest was always feted and inflated.

"A club where we kidded him would be more fun," he said. "We could deflate a guy and make him like it. The bigger a guy he is the better he'd like it."

His friends thought most celebrities too thin-skinned to go for the treatment, but agreed to a club if he could find a "fall guy."

Leaving the restaurant, Benham bumped into Count Felix von Luckner, famous lecturer and daring German sea raider of the first World War. Von Luckner readily agreed to be first guinea pig.

THE SOCIETY was organized with 17 circus fans as members pledged to raise funds to befriend impoverished old circus troupers.

"For four years we had tough going, and then the thing caught on," Benham said. Now the club is restricted to 650 members—prominent businessmen, artists, actors, writers and others—and has a long waiting list.

Among those initiated have been nine cabinet members, 15 congressmen and senators, several governors, and sports figures such as Babe Ruth and Jack Dempsey.

The club's president, former Gov. Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey, sets the tempo of the meeting by setting off firecrackers and banging away with a blank pistol instead of a gavel.

AFTER UNDERGOING a long ribbing in a series of scathing stage skits that parody his career, the speaker is given a chance to reply but is warned:

"You ought to know better now than to try to give this crowd your usual malarkey, but if you don't—"

The warning is enough to restrain any sleep-inducing oratorical flights.

One of the most laughable skits was presented at the initiation of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower. The special figure of Gen. U. S. Grant appeared and announced he had come to give Eisenhower "just one word of advice."

The word was: "Don't!"

Hoffman said the society had raised "thousands of dollars and helped hundreds of old circus troupers who have no one else to turn to." Recently Jesse Jones, former secretary of commerce gave $1,000 to the fund.

ON OCCASION the "fall guy" has turned the tables. Comedian Joe Cook did it by announcing he was going to read "Anthony Adverse." Nobody left at first—waiting for Cook to give with the laughs. But after he had read on dead-pan for two hours, they got the idea.

The only celebrity who ever lost his temper was the late Hugh S. Johnson, former NRA administrator.

"He was wearing a new white summer suit," laughed Hoffman, "and somebody handed him a live goose painted blue to resemble the NRA eagle. Unfortunately, the paint hadn't dried."

Countywide Safety Council Is Proposed

A report on a meeting with the Ohio state extension service relative to the organization of a countywide safety council was given by Emerson McKelvy at a meeting of Montgomery grange, Tuesday night at DeCliff. Members of the grange will cooperate in the countywide council activities which has for its objective the promotion of safety on the farm. In connection with the plan William Selanders of Bowling Green grange gave a short talk on the proposed countywide campaign. Cletus Uhl, master, presided for the meeting and other business included his election to the office of lecturer for the coming year, to succeed Miss Beulah Murphy who resigned.

A Christmas program was presented. Mary Jane Coon, Anita Coon, Alice Uhl, Shirley Granger, Rosemary Uhl and Jane Granger members of the juvenile grange, sang a group of Christmas Carols and later in the program, assisted by a girls' quartet from the senior group composed of Betty Uhl, Peggy Uhl, Ruth Granger and Alma Roush sang another group of numbers in keeping with the season. Other vocal numbers included two Christmas numbers by the girls' quartet and duet by Betty Uhl and Ruth Granger. Anita Coon and Mary Jane Coon entertained with a piano duet and each played a piano solo. Recitations were by Anita Coon, Jane Granger, Ralph Wenig and Judy Coon. Group singing of Carols closed the program which was followed by a gift exchange and later there was dancing and refreshments were served.

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

This is the first of three stories on compulsory military training which may be a hot issue in the 1948 congress.)

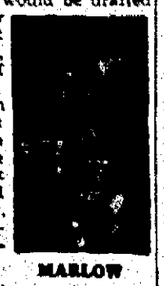
WASHINGTON

CONGRESS will have one tough baby on its hands if it tackles universal military training this year.

This is an election year for most members of congress and, while many people want military training for young men, many don't.

Friends of the idea call it universal military training (UMT). Universal, in this case, is another word for compulsory.

If congress should pass it, youths 18 to 20 would be drafted for military training for at least six months, about 900,000 of them a year.



MARLOW

Congressmen who voted for it would make some friends, the people who want UMT. They'd make enemies, too. For instance, some parents.

There's a bill, really a plan, for UMT, all set up and ready to be debated and voted upon in the house. Will the house go ahead with it? Maybe.

And maybe not. It may want to see whether the senate will tackle a UMT bill this year. The bill can't become law law unless both houses approve.

But congress may act if it thinks there's enough public opinion behind UMT and—if our relations with Russia get worse.

Some organizations — for example, the American Legion—are pushing very hard to get action on UMT this year.

Some educators want it, but some don't. The same with women's organizations and, for exaple, clergymen.

The American Legion, made up of veterans of World Wars I and II, has backed the idea for years, more than any other organization.

BUT THE AMERICAN VETERANS committee, made up of veterans of World War II only is against it.

Later stories in this series will go into details, but here is some of the long history.

It goes way back, back to 1919 when the American Legion after World War I backed a UMT program.

In almost every congress since then there has been at least one bill to make UMT law. Nothing much happened.

The bill never got far enough to reach the floor of the house or senate for debate and vote. Then World War II came along.

Almost from scratch we had to build up an armed force of 15,000,000 men. Should we be that unprepared for another war?

A lot of people thought no, including top military men like Generals Marshall and Eisenhower and Admiral King, who came out for UMT.

THEY CAME OUT FOR IT in 1945 and since then brigades of people have stepped forward in favor of UMT.

Since 1945 our relations with Russia have gone down hill. One by one countries of Europe have gone under Communist control.

That's thrown more wood on the UMT fire. So in December, 1946, President Truman appointed a commission of civilians to tell him whether our youths need some form of compulsory training.

This commission was made up of two college presidents, a former ambassador to Russia, a Catholic priest, a Protestant minister, a judge, a woman welfare worker, and a business man.

This commission worked five months, heard more than 200 witnesses talk for and against UMT, and turned in a 450-page report urging UMT right now.

The eight commission members, unanimous about the need for UMT, said it is an "urgent military necessity." This was in May, 1947.

Spurred on by this report, the house armed services committee in June started a month-long hearing, listened to 30 witnesses, and okayed a bill for UMT.

THE BILL WENT up to the house for action. But by then it was late in the summer of 1947 and the full house went home without acting on UMT.

The bill, unchanged, still stands, waiting for the house to tackle it now, or skip over it.

The senate has no similar bill ready to be acted upon. But the senate armed services committee within a month may start hearings on a UMT bill.

Those hearings may take a month, or months. Then, if the committee approves a UMT bill and sends it up to the full senate for a vote, the 1948 session of congress probably will be half over.

So the house can act fast, if it wants to. The senate will have less time but still, it seems, enough time to vote on UMT, or leave it alone for another year.

Major Clubs Begin Heralding "Rookies Of the Year" 2 Months Before Training

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 5—This is going to be one of the biggest years in baseball history for the freshmen and as a tipoff at least 11 major league clubs already are putting in a "rookie of the year" bid for one of their first year men.

Spring training doesn't open for almost two months but already the bugles are blaring the ability of the newcomers who may shake up the standings as the pennant races are run.

The Boston Braves have been praising the ability of shortstop Alvin Dark, former Louisiana State All-America halfback. He hit .303 and was a defensive gem as he led the Milwaukee Brewers to the Little World Series. But before you hand him the laurels you'd better look around a bit.

The Cincinnati Reds think they have a shortstop to top Dark in Virgil Stallcup, who hit .340 for Jersey City of the International league. He's six, three and 185 pounds of ballhawk from Ravensford, N. C., and Roger Peckinpaugh hails him as the best he's seen in years.

Detroit believes that it will spring a surprise in George Vico, 23, of San Fernando, Calif. Vico, six, three and 200 pounds, hit .307 for Portland.

Bucs Buy $100,000 Catcher

Pittsburgh outbid seven other clubs to corral Eddie Fitzgerald, Sacramento catcher, for an estimated $100,000. A durable six footers of 180 pounds, the 24-year-old from Santa Ynez, Calif., hit .337 against Coast league chucking and was one of the circuit's top base stealers.

And while looking over catchers, don't overlook Wesley Westrum, 22, of Clearbrook, Minn., for whom the Giants refused $100,000. He batted .295 at Minneapolis and hit 22 homers, only one behind the American Association leader.

Two potential star outfielders are Ken Wood, coming up to the Browns, and Cal Abrams, up with Brooklyn. Wood, a Charlotte, N. C., boy, goes six, one and 200 pounds.

Abrams hit .345 at Mobile, topping the Southern league in bases on balls and runs scored. A long ball hitter, he once belted a 475-foot round tripper.

Cards Have Pitcher

The St. Louis Cardinals, sorely in need of pitching strength, are pounding the drums for Clarence Beers of Houston, first Texas league tosser to win 25 games in a decade. He pitched 24 complete games which included six shutouts and walked only 63 men in 186 frames.

The Phils meanwhile expect much of the 19-year-old Curt Simmons, an Egypt, Pa., youngster whom Herb Pennock described as "a second Rube Waddell."

Cleveland looks hopefully to 27-year-old Bill Kennedy, a southpaw from Carnesville, Ga., and the Cubs are taking premature bows for southpaw Cliff Chambers, 26-year-old Portland, Ore., player who won 24 against nine losses at Los Angeles.

Those are being touted at the moment as the best of 1948. But there are so many coming up that almost anybody is liable to walk off with the honors.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

by Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 5—While golfers in general are debating whether Great Britain and the United States can afford to stage cup matches annually, the touring pros are bound to have a big international season . . . Some of them hope to make as much money out of it as Bobby Locke did last year . . . In addition to Locke the South African, Norman Von Nida of Australia and Roberto De Vincenzo of Australia began the 1948 winter tour in the Los Angeles open. Dia Rees, the Welshman, is coming back and Henry Cotton, who has gone to take his winter post at Monte Carlo, will return in March for the Augusta Masters tournament and an exhibition tour. Cotton likely will team up with Locke, Byron Nelson or Babe Zaharias . . . Von Nida, who is the same size as Ben Hogan, looks like the most dangerous visitor. He was the leading money winner in Great Britain last year.

WITH THE INDOOR TRACK season getting under way John Beer of the Newark, (N.J.) News recalls an ingenious dodge used by the starter at a Jersey meet to keep the sprinters, a group of notorious gun beaters on their marks until the pistol cracked . . . As they lined up the starter gently reminded them: "If there's a false start it will be excused. But if the man makes two false starts he'll be disqualified with no expense money."

Leroy Goldsworthy, coach of the Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey league, is the golf pro at the Jasper, Alberta, summer resort.

LESNEVICH TO MEET BELL IN CINCINNATI

Light-Heavyweight Champ in Non-Title Bout.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Jan. 5—Gus Lesnevich, whose light-heavyweight crown has become an elusive goal for the Queen City's "Beltin' Beauty," Ezzard Charles, puts on the gloves here tonight, but just for show.

The Cliffside, N. J. battler, who "stunned" the Charles camp last month by signing to fight Billy Fox of Philadelphia in Madison Square Garden March 5 just when Charles was ready to "come to terms" for a championship bout in June, meets Shelton Bell of Youngstown in a four-round exhibition at music hall.

Charles, rated by the National Boxing Association as the logical contender for the light-heavy crown, will be at ringside but promoters Sam and Benny Decker said it was uncertain that he would be introduced.

It was the Becker brothers who reported signing Lesnevich for a championship fight here in June. George Rein, one of the Cincinnati puncher's three managers, said his fighter was in the process of signing when the Lesnevich-Fox bout was announced.

Early last year, Sam Decker reported Lesnevich was ready to sign but said Charles "stalled off" on the fight pending the outcome of his scrap with heavyweight Elmer Ray in the Garden. Ebony Ezzard was decisioned by Ray, the only fight he has lost since leaving the Army in 1945, and the Charles - Lesnevich bout was shelved for the time.

Co-featured with Lesnevich on tonight's card is a 10-round headliner between featherweight Filberto Osario of New York, and Cincinnati's Pat Iacobucci.

Hugh Hay of Coshocton was named treasurer of a committee to obtain pledges.

Ohio State-Iowa, Reserve-Cincinnati Games Highlight Week's Cage Card

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 5—Ohio State's youthful Buckeyes, current leaders of the Western conference, and Western Reserve's Red Cats, the state basketball pace-setters with eight straight wins, get a chance against rugged foes this week to prove their right to the lofty perches.

Buckeye squads play 45 games this week, but the spotlight will focus tonight on Iowa's Big Nine fray with Ohio State, and Tuesday night on the Western Reserve-Cincinnati game at Cleveland.

Iowa's Hawkeyes have won six in a row in tuning up for the Western conference race and should prove a stern test for Tippy Dye's sophomores who launched league play Saturday with a 64-60 win over Northwestern.

Cincinnati's Bearcats, who lost three of their first four, roared back into the field of contenders Saturday by overcoming a nine-point deficit and whipping Utah, last year's National Invitational tourney king, by 56 to 49. Rated off that victory the Bearcats must be given a good chance against the Red Cats who, with Capital and Wilberforce State, make up the undefeated contingent among the state's 40 teams.

The Cincinnati-Reserve contest is the lid-lifter on the Mid-America conference slate, with Ohio U. invading Miami for the second league game Wednesday night. Twelve Ohio conference games are on the week's slate and 22 other frays are with out-of-state opponents.

In preliminary skirmishing Ohio teams won 62 and lost 36 games to out-of-state opponents, grabbing 46 and losing 13 on Buckeye floors while winning 16 and losing 23 abroad.

As the clubs swing into the 1948 games, Bowling Green paces the scoring race wtih 1,034 in 12 victories and two losses for an average of 74. Baldwin-Wallace is second with a 69-point average and Toledo's Rockets, beaten last week by Seton Hall and Michigan after nine contests, are third with 67. Toledo meets Baldwin-Wallace Friday night in one of the week's headliners.

Here's how the teams have fared to date:

Berardino's Features Insured for $100,000

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Jan. 5—President Bill Veeck disclosed today the Cleveland Baseball club will insure the photogenic face of infielder Johnny Berardino for $100,000.

The clause which was written into his contract at the insistence of Polimer Productions, a studio that holds his movie contract, calls for the insurance of Berardino's features against baseball injury. Berardino signed to play with the Indians last week while Veeck was in Los Angeles.

Every one of the 13 passes thrown by Frank Sinkwich for Georgia in the 1942 Orange Bowl game found receivers—nine were caught by teammates and four by TCU players.

ACTION ON PURITY CODE DUE THIS WEEK

Coaches from 300 Colleges To Attend New York Parley.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 5—New York will become a bustling football coaches' market this week when athletic chieftains from some 300 colleges and universities gather to talk plainly about the "sanity code" and grid rules changes.

Between 600 and 700 mentors are due in town to attend meetings in connection with the annual session of the National Collegiate Athletic association—and many of them are bound to be sounded out by institutions seeking to fill coaching vacancies.

The whirlwind series of meetings gets underway Tuesday but the main action is slated later in the week.

The American Football Coaches association's rules committee will convene Wednesday to discuss proposed changes in the statutes.

The N.C.A.A. is scheduled to take final action Jan. 9-10 on the "sanity code"—or "purity code," as it was originally labeled.

Penn State Team Torn by Dissension In Cotton Bowl Game, Coach Reveals

By The United Press

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Jan. 5—Penn State's football team was torn by dissension in the Cotton Bowl game and most of the squad cut some lively capers while in Dallas, Coach Higgings revealed reluctantly today, but he said he would never tell which players caused the trouble.

Pointing out that the boys resented being quartered in a naval air base there and began asking him for special favors almost at the moment of their arrival to play Southern Methodist in the New Year's day game, Higgins said that most of the offending players had seen Navy service during the war.

"But I figured, after I cooled of, that you have to be patient and show some sympathy with these youngsters who spent a good many years fighting for old guys like me," he said.

Threatened to Ruin Chance

Higgins, distressed over the fact that these "true but damaging reports" had been circulated, admitted the dissension threatened to ruin his team's chances in the game in which it preserved an undefeated record by tying S.M.U. 13 to 13.

"Before the game, I thought this bickering between some of the players and myself would hurt our playing," he said. "But the final score satisfies me that the boys gave everything they had."

He said the chief offender came to him the night they arrived in Dallas and asked for a special airplane to visit friends in Houston.

"He asked if I knew the commander of the base well enough to get him a plane to Houston," Higgins said. "I told him I had just met the commander, but that even if I did know him well, I wouldn't dare make such a request.

"During the 14 days we stayed in Dallas, "Higgins continued. "This boy made many, many other requests. But I won't tell you his name because he's got a lot of football years ahead of him."

Higgins was asked concerning a report that seven seniors on the squad climbed over a fence and went into Dallas on one night.

"It was my understanding that the whole squad, or at least most of them, did," he said. "I wasn't too mad about that. When you get a bunch of kids together in a strange town and experiencing a thrill like a bowl game, most coaches would find it pretty tough to slap them down hard."

Higgins said that he was sorry that the matter had come to light and emphasized again and again

Cars driven by Robert Flowers, 22 of Galion, and Robert Wood, 38, of Galion, collided on route 30-S about one mile south of Galion at 1:50 p. m. Saturday, damaging both cars. Wood was driving a new convertible coupe which he had owned but two hours when the accident occurred. The front end of his car was badly damaged. No one was injured.

Collision in City

Cars driven by William Kasey, 30, of 390 Lee street, and Kenneth Oliver, 21, of 161 North State street collided at the intersection of Silver street and route 30-S just outside the Marion city limits at 7 p. m. Saturday, damaging both cars.

A car driven by William Murphy 20, of Morral, skidded on the ice and ran into a guard rail on route 23, about 2½ miles north of Marion at 10:40 a. m. yesterday, damaging the car extensively. Murphy was not injured.

A car driven by Dorm McColley caught fire and burned at 3:30 a. m. today at the intersection of Route 47 and 4 about 3½ miles east of Richwood.

The attack and subsequent fighting brought death to 15 persons Arabs, British and Jews.

DOG LICENSE SALES LAGGING IN COUNTY

Only 800 Sold as Compared with 1,300 Year Ago.

Harry V. Mounts, county auditor, reported today that dog license sales for 1948 to date are lagging behind last year's sales by approximately 500. On this date last year 1,300 dog licenses had been issued by the auditor's office while today's records show only 80 licenses have been bought by dog owners.

Mr. Mounts reminded dog owners that licenses must be purchased before Jan. 20 to avoid the penalty provided by state law.

All dogs over three months old must be licensed. The cost of license remains the same as in former years, male dog, $1, females, $3. Spayed females, $1 and kennel license, $10.

To further impress dog owners that old Rover's collar should have that new license installed as soon as possible, County Dog Warden W. M. Warner reports the impounding of 23 unlicensed dogs in Marion county for the week ending Jan. 3. Of these 9 were sold and 14 disposed of.

LaRue Girl Speaks In Columbus Event

Miss Dwilla Harvey, LaRue High school student, was among a group of seven contestants in a district Prince of Peace declamation contest at Columbus Neil Avenue Methodist church Sunday night. She represented Marion county. First place was won by a London, O., contestant. At a county contest in December, Miss Harvey won a silver medal given by the Ohio Council of Churches and at that time became eligible to enter the district contest. Present with Miss Harvey were her father, Arthur Harvey, and her high school teacher who coached her in her oration, Miss Margaret Selanders.

There are about 1,700 colleges and universities in the United States.

CHIANG DEFEAT? Mao Tse-tung (above), chief of the Chinese Communists, declares his forces now are conducting a nationwide offensive in China and confidently predicts defeat of the Chiang Kai-shek government despite U. S. aid. The Red chief in a 10,000-word report charges Chiang is tool of American imperialism and is conducting war "against independence of the Chinese nation and liberation of its people."

are, therefore, unavoidable. We are at a point where the Truman administration cannot please all the services, all the departments, all the specialized divisions of the State department, all the countries to which by its unconsidered and no doubt well intentioned declarations it is morally committed.

The process of deflation is an exceedingly painful process, especially for a democracy, especially in an election year. But we can no more avoid it than could the Russians, who have deflated themselves brutally but effectively, or than the British who are struggling with it, or the French who are face to face with the imperative need for it. Our margins of safety are greater than those of any other great power. But our commitments and our obligations are also greater, and the necessity of making both ends meet is now squarely before us.

We shall have to have from Secretary Forrestal a decision, as is required under the new military legislation, on how our military investment is to be allocated. We shall have to have from Secretary Marshall judgments as to where on the great globe our diplomatic effort is to be concentrated and pushed forward decisively. And in the presence of these decisions we shall have to concentrate our attention, refusing to let it be dispersed all over the surface of the earth. For the earth is [illegible] large, and he troubles [illegible] leaders much too [illegible] regard ourselves as [illegible] fixers of everything.

CALL STEEL MAKERS IN MARKET PROBE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5—The nation's biggest steel producers were called before a congressional committee today to discuss market operations estimated to be adding $1,000,000,000 annually to the nation's steel bill.

They were due to testify before a special house subcommittee headed by Rep. Macy (R-NY) which is inquiring into "grey market" practices in steel and other scarce materials.

Emphasizing that none of the witnesses is accused of anything, Macy said his objective is to find out details of transactions in order to trace sales at abnormal prices outside the regular trade channels.

Officials of the following companies were invited to be on hand for the opening committee session: U.S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Inland Steel, American Rolling Mill, Jones & Laughlin, National Steel, Republic Steel, and Youngstown Sheet and Tube.

that he didn't want to "name names."

"They were a high strung bunch of boys, but I'm not apologizing for them," he said. "The game, the season—everything—is over now."

Despite the dissension reports the squad was given a rousing welcome by an estimated 2,000 students and townspeople. Higgins told them he thought his team had done a fine job of upholding the honor of the east against the highly-rated Southwest conference.

In 1900 about four out of every five American workers owned their own land or businesses.

Do You Have Superfluous Hair?
If you have superfluous hair on your face, arms or legs, you know how unhappy it has made you. The only treatment to permanently remove hair that is not wanted is by Electrolysis, or the use of the electric needle. This method is the only one endorsed by physicians and doctors the world over, ask your doctor and he will tell you this. I use the latest equipment, the multiple Kree System, and the Brantrodic Short Wave System. I am a graduate of the Medical Dept. of the Cleveland Academy of Cosmetic Therapy, and a licensed electrolysis by the State Medical Board. All answers in plain envelopes. Don't put this off, a card or letter will bring you further information. If you will write to Dr. Emma Durr, C. 710 Rogers St., Bucyrus, Ohio. Write today.
